Prior to this project JFP had gained experience relating to childcare by completing a number of childcare centre projects, including some on behalf of SunKids, the childcare business of the Sunland Group. JFP was able to apply its experience to assist the new childcare developer, Auskids, on technical and design related elements to create its first centre.

As well as assisting Auskids to secure an approval for the childcare project, JFP also designed and supervised construction of the landscape and play areas within the childcare centre to provide an interesting and accessible environment within which children could safely play and learn.

The Victoria Point project further reinforced JFPs' skills in relation to the Childcare Industry. These skills have since been applied to further assist AusKids and other childcare developers to grow their businesses and to create interesting environments which encourage children to learn more about the world around them.
